DESCRIPTION Please describe the practice you have developed.
People open their own gardens to the public for a small fee through the National Garden Scheme. All monies raised go to charity AIMS AND OUTCOMES Which are the main purposes tackled in a community garden with this tool? Which concrete results have been observed at short and long term?
to raise money for charities; to improve gardening practice and skills; to give people inspiration for their own gardens
WHAT MAKES IT A GOOD PRACTICE OR TOOL? Identify which elements make this action a good practice, for ex. Innovation, coherence, link with other projects or people, favours social mixing, simplify work, earn time or money, etc.
It's fun; social activity; transfer of information; focus for the gardeners; intergenerational mixing; promotes cohesion - sometimes a few neighbours get together and open gardens as a group
STEP BY STEP Please, describe how to put in practice, guiding with clear instruction and materials needed someone that would like to experiment your tool in a local community garden around Europe
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• You need a reasonably well-cared for garden to show people, it can be big or small</li> <li>• Register with the national scheme, as they will help you to organize the opening</li> <li>• If there is no national scheme, why not set up your own scheme with your friends or other people in the community. You could advertise locally and set up a group, choose a charity to support and set the dates for your openings.</li> </ul>
COMPETENCES Which are the previous knowledge and skills required to put in practice this tool?
Can you answer yes to any of the following questions:
Is your garden interesting?
Is the planting and/or design attractive?
Is your garden well maintained?
Can you offer refreshments if required?

Do you enjoy talking about your garden?
Are you ready for a fun day?
If so, then you have the ideal garden to open...

EVALUATION How do you normally evaluate the outcomes of this tool?

There's no formal evaluation for this kind of activity. People just have fun and enjoy exchanging information about gardening.
